1ST, 3RD ARMIES ADVANCE

Luzon Invasion Imminent Say Japs

Tokyo Reports Bombardment By US Naval Units

No Confirmation Of Action Made By Yank Commanders

By Leonard Millman
Associated Press War Editor

Expected Japanese broadcasts today reported more than 450 U. S. transports "screaming north" in the Philippines headed for an invasion of Manila Bay or Lingayen Gulf in Luzon, said a delecting two-day broadcast of air bombardment of the gulf 30 miles north of Manila.

American commanders ignored the Tokyo broadcasts. Instead they reported devastating strikes along a 300-mile arc of enemy-held islands from Palau to Manila, and the secondary invasions.

A recent broadcast boasted of the strength of Japanese land forces in the Philippines. None of the mentioned Japanese fleet or attempted to explain why it did not come out to fight.

Japanese front-line dispatches said an armada of 70 U. S. carriers led by battleships, shelled Japanese ports Saturday and Sunday while carrier planes from Vice Adm. John S. McCain's fast carrier force incessantly blast our positions.

"May Invade Any Time"

Land battles, including heavy fighting, the correspondent reported, and the whole gulf roars with the blasts of gunfire.

Nippon 2 reports agreed Yank aircraft might strike the heavily fortified shore "at any time." They boasted the invaders would have to sacrifice a heavy toll of men and tanks of "a great enemy annihilation battle."

An Imperial communiqué reported three powerful convoys, including 150 transports and a task force of 25 warships, were headed toward Manila from central Philippines water. The enemy high command claimed that since Wednesday Japanese planes attacking these and other convoys sank seven first line battleships and 16 transports, and damaged nine other ships.

Carriers Strike Luzon

Only confirmation of any of the enemy reports was a communiqué from Adm. Chester W. Nimitz that the carrier forces had shifted from blasting Formosa to striking Luzon island in support of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces. The two commanders reported destruction of 50 Japanese planes and damaging of 27 others, with carrier reports still incomplete.

Japanese Land New Troops On Fukien Coast

China, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Japanese forces have landed fresh troops on the coast of northeastern Fukien province in an obvious preparation to counter any American attempt to establish beachheads on the Asiatic mainland, the Chinese high command announced tonight.

The Japanese landed Dec. 26 and advanced inland, occupying the town of Suifu about 70 miles northeast of Japanese-held Pochow.

A Chinese counterattack retook Suifu Jan. 3, and the enemy retreated to the east, the high command said.

The landing was considered as one in a series of enemy measures to aid against American landings on the China coast. Although the Japanese have blasted China with a corridor to Indo-China, much of the territory east of their line between Hankow and Indo-China remains in Chinese hands. The Chinese held most of the stretch from Hanchow Bay southward.

The Japanese apparently want to be in position to rush troops to any point where American forces might secure lodgment.

New Cold Wave Due To Blow In From Canada

By The Associated Press

Sub-zero temperatures moving in from central Canada and accompanied by moderately strong winds brought a special cold wave warning for the middle west from the weather bureau today.

Forecasters said readings at zero and below would be general in the area tonight, except for parts of central and southern Illinois and Indiana.

Temperatures of near 25 below were predicted for northern Minnesota tonight, with 10 to 15 below expected for the southern part. Readings ranging from 15 to 20 below were predicted for northwestern Iowa and northwestern Wisconsin and 5 to 10 below in eastern Iowa, northwestern Illinois and southwestern Wisconsin.

Zero readings also were expected for central Illinois and northern Indiana, ranging to 15 above along the Ohio river in southern Illinois and Indiana. Zero was forecast for lower Michigan and 10 below in the northern part of the state.

It was 25 below zero in northern Minnesota this morning, almost as frigid in North Dakota and eastern Montana, and slightly below zero in South Dakota. The cold snap will spread as far eastward as Ohio by tomorrow morning, Chicago forecasters Howard Kenny predicted. Snow flurries are expected to accompany the temperature drop but no rain.

The cold wave is expected to continue throughout tomorrow but it may wane on Wednesday, Kenny predicted.

Dr. Lewis S. C. Smythe
Addresses Church Group On Situation Over There

"There is a great deal more to learn about the Orient than anyone can learn in 15 years," said Dr. Lewis S. C. Smythe, for 15 years professor of sociology at the University of Nanking in China, when he spoke before an assembly of the central Christian church last evening.

Dr. Smythe explained that China has unofficially been at war with Japan since 1931. The Chinese did all they could to make an agreement with Japan but they could not, he stated. He also told how disappointed the Chinese people were in regard to the aid they have thus far received from western nations.

"China is suffering, in part from the wrongs of other nations," Dr. Smythe declared. He further said that when China's problems are solved it will be a success for the rest of the civilized world.

Inflation a Problem

The speaker told the audience of the inflation with which China is at the present time confronted. He cited the cases of several different kinds of commodities such as sugar which doubled in price during the last year. In six years the price of

Nazi Offensive In Ardennes Has Failed Says Montgomery

By Boyd Lewis

Somewhere in Belgium, Jan. 8.—(UP)—The German offensive in the Ardennes has ended in failure and the Nazi armies that launched it were "written off," Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery said today in his first press conference since assuming command of the Allied counterattack in the north.

Battle Not Over

Montgomery warned that the battle was far from over and that a great deal of hard fighting lay ahead, but he asserted that the Germans definitely have lost the initiative without gaining any important advantage from their initial successes.

(Official statements earlier said German casualties approximated 100,000 killed, wounded or captured in the Ardennes, against considerably smaller American losses.)

Essential Jobs Being Reviewed By Government

Some Activities Likely To Come Off 'Necessary' List

Washington, Jan. 8.—(P)—Senator Austin (R-Vt.) challenged administration leaders in Congress to back up President Roosevelt's call for a national service act with enabling legislation.

Austin, designated by Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) as the Republican steering committee's spokesman on manpower, told a news conference he believes that legislation to force the nation's 4-Fs into war work is only "intermediate" in character.

He said, however, he might support it if the administration does not move to obtain passage of a broad national service act such as he and Rep. Wadsworth (R-N.Y.) offered in the last Congress.

Meanwhile, a bill authorizing the induction of men who strike at war plants was introduced in the house by Rep. Colmer (D-Miss.). The measure also would authorize draft boards to order the induction of other men who in their opinion fail to contribute their full effort to war output.

The Mississippi chairman of the house postwar committee would give the army and navy authority to use these men in any way they see fit to further the war effort, including assignment to war production plants.

Distinctive Uniforms

Under Colmer's measure, which goes to a house committee for study, the special draftees would be given distinctive uniforms but would receive regular army pay, on the basis of rank.

Under present law the men classified as 4-F—about 3½ million of them—are free to go into essential work, change their jobs or take non-essential jobs.

But the 4-Fs who have gone into essential work and have had their classification changed to 2-A (F) or 2-B (F) can not change jobs without draft board permission.

Lower Standards

If they do, they face induction into the army which has lowered its physical standards to accept such men although it is not taking men still listed as 4-F.

The only way in which 4-Fs can be drafted is this:

If they are re-examined and found to be now in physical condition that meets the army's standard requirements.

This is the way it works out:

Typical Case

A 4-F and a 2-A (F) who moved from an essential job without board permission, both have the same physical defect. Both are re-examined.

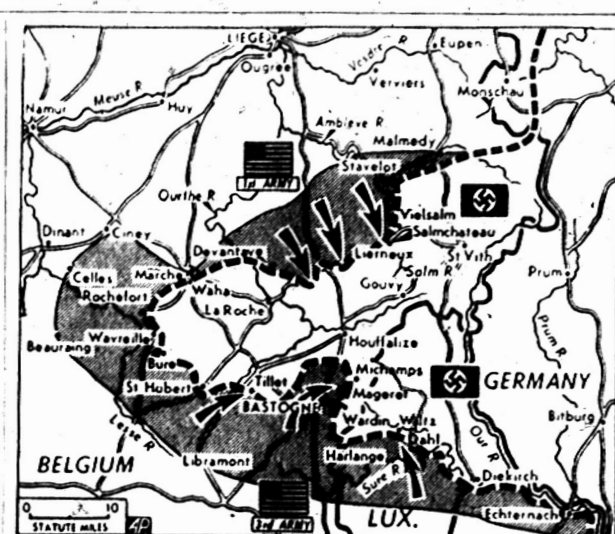

The 2-A (F) can be taken because the army physical standards have been lowered and he can meet these lowered requirements.

But the 4-F is not taken. He has to meet the old standards. He is not acceptable under the lowered standards.

To find a way of grinding the job-control and manpower screws tighter, the government is reviewing the entire list of essential activities.

And this may be the result, it appeared today, although no decision has been reached.

American Drives Gain in Bulge

Arrows indicate where American troops are pressing against the German salient in Belgium and Luxembourg. On the north the First Army cut the St. Vith-La Roche highway east and west of the Liege-Houffalize road and southwest of Stavelot troops of the First drove to the heights west of Viessam and Salmchateau. Slight gains were recorded on the southern line of the front. Shaded area is that retaken by Allies since German push ended. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Heavy Bombers Hit Rail And Road Lines

London, Jan. 8.—(UP)—More than 700 American heavy bombers today hammered rail and road lines from Frankfurt to the western front in Germany and struck at Nazi positions in Luxembourg and Belgium within the Ardennes bulge.

The eighth air force bombers, with a cover of about 200 Mustang fighters, also attacked rail centers supplying Nazi troops on the Saar front in the 16th assault in 17 days on German communication lines.

The American raid followed a double night strike on Munich, German industrial and railway center, by 750 or more British planes.

The U. S. strategic air force, in announcing the new attacks on Germany, disclosed that six bombers previously reported missing from Sunday's operations had been found safe, making a total of three bombers and one fighter missing.

Admiral Warns U.S. Robot Raids Are Probable

Says New York Or Washington May Be Hit Within 30-60 Days

An East Coast Port, Jan. 8.—(UP)—Admiral Jonas H. Ingram, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, said today that it was "possible and probable that New York City or Washington will be hit by buzz bombs within the next 30 or 60 days."

Move In Forces

Ingram said he would take charge of coastal defenses of New York and Washington and that he had moved "plenty of forces" to take every possible precaution against the attack.

He said the bombs would come in one of three ways: (1) Surface ship; (2) submarine; (3) long range planes.

He said the bombs would probably be smaller than the V-2 or V-3 launched against Great Britain. He said the greatest danger to expect was from fires, and that the bombs were not expected to seriously damage any large buildings.

Next Alert Real McCoy

He warned against panic, which he said could increase the damage. "The next alert will be the real McCoy," he said.

The danger area, he said, was in a 300 mile arc from which either New York or Washington could be hit. He said the Germans had 300 submarines "at least" in the Atlantic and that the navy was prepared to keep them from coming close enough to fire, or to stop them before they fired very many bombs. He said six or eight subs would be needed to bomb New York.

"I consider that adequate measures have been taken to protect New York and Washington," he said.

Green Calls For New Basic Code

Urges Present State Services Be Maintained

By Louis J. Kramp

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Governor Dwight H. Green, in his second term inaugural message to the Illinois general assembly, called today for a constitutional convention to rewrite the state's basic law, and urged that present state services be maintained or expanded without major changes in the present state tax system.

Concentrate on War

Describing his program as one "concentrated upon winning the war and preparing for the predictable problems of reconversion," the Republican chief executive also recommended to the GOP-controlled legislature:

1. Establishment of new state departments of veterans affairs and of aeronautics.
2. Reapportionment of legislative and Congressional representation.
3. Construction of at least five state tuberculosis sanatoriums costing $7,570,000, and allotment of $250,000 in state aid to county health departments.

No Sales Tax Diversion

4. Liberalization of the unemployment and workmen's compensation and the veterans' tenure law, and insertion of "teeth" in child labor statutes.

5. No diversion of sales tax revenue to municipalities, but relaxation of restrictions on uses of motor fuel tax funds by cities.

6. Improvements in farm to market roads and rural education.

The Governor "urgently" advised that the legislature arrange now to submit to voters at the November, 1946, general election the question of holding a constitutional convention.

If the proposition is approved, he said, delegates could be elected in 1947 and the new document they wrote could be submitted to the people in 1948.

1870 Document 'Inadequate'

Termining the 1870 constitution "inadequate" and one of "the most vexing problems for a generation," Mr. Green pointed out it has been unchanged in 34 years and asserted that "any attempt to obtain approval for any amendment now is almost hopeless."

There were other proposals—some of them previously disclosed—in the 12,000 word speech which treated 24 general subjects.

Broadly sketched, these were other paramount points:

No New Tax Levies

Taxes "cannot be reduced but there is no need for increases or new levies."

A commission should be created to recommend a constructive program for state and local aid to common schools.

Legislative action should clear the way for slum clearance projects.

State hospital facilities for veterans.

Congress Wary Of Request To Draft Nurses

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Congress took a "proceed with caution" attitude toward President Roosevelt's request for legislation permitting the drafting of nurses.

Chairman May (D-Ky.) said the house military committee would study the President's suggestion after first considering his request for work or fight legislation aimed at 4-Fs.

Before taking any action, May said, the committee probably will hear Major Gen. Norman T. Kirk, surgeon general of the army.

"We must consider also the effect a draft of nurses would have on the civilian health situation," May said, adding that he favored a draft only "as a last resort."

Representative Frances Bolton (R-Ohio), author of much nursing legislation, including that which created the cadet nurse corps, expressed fear the threat of a draft might slow down volunteering of nurses.

Eighth Army Troops Drive To Adriatic

Rome, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Canadian troops of the eighth army have driven to the Adriatic set at a point about 10 miles above Ravenna and in four days have pushed the Nazis out of 50 square miles of the marshy land between that city and the Vail di Comacchio.

Fanning out east and west along the highway from captured San Alberto, the Canadians reached the sea at Casal Borsetti at the base of the spit of land separating the Comacchio lagoon from the Adriatic.

Meanwhile, snow and cold weather confined activity on the rest of the Italian front to patrol activities. Allied headquarters announced.

Headquarters said the American destroyer Woolsey took part yesterday in the bombardment of vital targets in the Massa area, southeast of Spezia on Italy's west coast, where the Germans are bulwarked behind mountain defenses.

It was in this sector that the German radio announced several days ago that there had been an Allied landing—an announcement obviously unfounded.

Narrow Waist Of Nazi Salient Under 10 Miles

German Threat To Strasbourg Said Apparently Lessened

By James M. Long

Paris, Jan. 8.—(AP)—More advances by the American first and third armies in the worst blizzard of the winter narrowed the waist of the Belgian salient to less than ten miles tonight and caused Field Marshal Von Rundstedt to speed the withdrawal of his survivors from the western tip of the salient.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' first army captured five villages and won domination of 15 miles of the St. Vith-La Roche highway, one of the two last escape routes for three crack Panzer divisions in the toe of the sock of the bulge. The other road, leading up through Houffalize was under artillery fire from both sides of the salient.

Allies Counterattack

The German diversionary threat to Strasbourg was described officially as apparently lessened as the Allies hurled counterattacks against German armor which spread north upon the Rhine city from the Colmar pocket. The Allies wrested back some of the ground lost eight miles north of the city on the west bank of the Rhine.

In the Ardennes salient in Belgium and Luxembourg, a two way American attack from north and south not only cut one of the last two German supply and retreat lines in the bulge, but brought the other special guests. All were informal attire.

Immediately after the half hour ceremonies and Governor Green's inaugural message, the officials and their families greeted the public at receptions in their respective offices.

Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett, recently a marine sergeant, was the only Democrat inaugurated.

Lt. Gov. Hugh W. Cross, State Auditor Arthur C. Lueder and Attorney General George F. Barrett started second four-year terms.

Continue Slow Gains

The third army on the south captured Flammer, only two miles from the last German road leading from Libramont through Houffalize to St. Vith.

American and British assault teams on the 30-mile attack front on the northern side of the bulge kept up their slow, measured gains and the British sixth airborne division, veterans of Normandy, kept three crack German armored divisions tied up in heavy battle at the toe of the sock.

Supreme headquarters was silent concerning the German bridgehead thrust across the Maas (Meuse) river in Holland north of Venlo.

Seize Thierbunder

The most important gain on the first army front was made by the second airborne division, led by 37-year-old Maj. Gen. James M. Gavin.

The sky troops seized the Thierbunder ridge northwest of Salmchateau, which commands much of the St. Vith-La Roche road.

Maj. Gen. Maurice Rose's third armored division completed the occupation of Jouberville on the highway three miles west of Salmchateau and fought into nearby Hebronnal.

Rundstedt's flight from the Rochefort area gave a clear indication that the German Marshal had abandoned further hope—of exploiting his break through of the thinly held first army front in his Christmas offensive.

Resistance was scattered and light at the western tip and many
